

Biology Associate of Science

Program Summary Associate of Science

Biology is one of the core sciences for numerous career paths, including medical, dental, veterinary, nursing, nutrition, and other health and science related professions. The Biology Program is a great option for students interested in getting started in their college and medical careers. The holistic wellness emphasis is a National Association of Nutrition Professionals (NANP)-approved Holistic Nutrition Program, as well as an Approved Health and Wellness Coach Training & Education Program by the National Board for Health & Wellness Coaching (NBHWC), providing a unique opportunity for students to pursue holistic wellness education within an accredited, degreed program.
