

DRAMA ASSOCIATE OF ARTS

The drama department at Hill College has a rich history of performance and scholarship. Students are engaged in theatre history, acting for the stage, and design projects for classes and productions. We are a small department, committed to the success of each student and seeking to provide a well-rounded theatre education for our graduates as they move on to four-year universities and careers. The size of the department is an advantage for students, allowing them more stage time in productions and more individual instruction from faculty.
